OPTICAL EXCLUSION

A secret about getting old is: YOU CAN BECOME INVISIBLE!
Say you find yourself alone in a group of young adults.
They will talk over you. They will talk around you. But never to you.
Because they are quite simply so self-absorbed,
They don't see you.
Ah, but there are advantages to being invisible.
You can stare right at them if you want,
And you are free to eavesdrop indiscriminately.
You can roll your eyes or even cross your eyes at them
And no one will ever take offense.
I think you will find this infinitely more fun
Than just wearing a red hat and purple dress!
